

Ananya Goel

Ananya currently works as a Research Assistant in the Department of Art and Art History at Stanford University. During her undergraduate studies, Ananya worked in the curatorial departments of the Benton Museum at Pomona College and the Whitney Museum of American Art. She is experienced in designing and installing museum and gallery exhibitions. In the Art History and Art departments at Pomona, she gained skills in curriculum development and administrative work. Ananya is a skilled researcher and art maker and received distinction for both her Art History and Art theses. Ananya has volunteered with Art With Elders (AWE) since September 2024. Her work for AWE has included assisting the Exhibitions Director in developing a thematic statement for the 2025 AWE at SF Museum exhibit, "A Study of Familiar Places," and serving as a juror for the AWE 32nd Annual Exhibit. In addition to her work with Art With Elders, she has also volunteered with the elder community in Pleasanton, CA.

LinkedIn profile:

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/ananya-goel-2910321b4/>